Jackie Bredsten and Ellie Zeller

Jackie Bredsten and Ellie Zeller are athletes of the week. There is no better demonstration of working as a team than what those two girls do on the tennis court during a match. These two girls are amazing to watch as they communicate extremely well during every match that they play. The girls have a season record of 8-3 with two 3-set wins against Irondale and Breck. Jackie and Ellie are always able to keep their composure after first set losses to come back and win the second set, then the match. The way they play their matches is admirable as they are always able to keep up their spirits no matter the situation. Off the court the girls are both good leaders on the team and have great sportsmanship. They are liked by their teammates and their opponents. They both show what it's like to be part of a team by supporting each other and their teammates with their encouragement and praise.
