Lauren Gordhamer

Lauren Gordhamer is this week's Athlete of the Week. This is Lauren's second year on the varsity volleyball team, but this is her first year at the varsity libero position. Lauren has been a great defensive specialist and an ace server all season long. Gordhamer's court-awareness and passing have been strengths for the Huskies this year. In addition to being a strong volleyball player, look for Lauren this winter and spring on the basketball court and on the track!
